VANDERLIP SEES AMERICA DOMINANT

First Nation to Be Both Financial Centre and Raw Material Storehouse.

SAYS EUROPE MUST WORK

Warns Employers They Must Display Unstinted Liberalism to Settle Labor Problem.

While in no way attempting to medify the impression created by his speech of a week ago before the Economic Club in with he portrayed economic conditions in England and Europe is a setting so alarmingly pessimistic as to create much comment and doubt in financial circles Frank A. Vanderlip, who resigned on Tuesday from the presidency of the National City Bank, turned the canvas around, and in a speech on "America's Opportunity" at a luncheon of the Merchanis Association at the Hotel Astor yesterday expressed not only the hope fut the belief that a rehabilitation of industry would follow in Europe and that America would play a big part in that work.

Mr. Vanderlip was the chief speaker at the luncheon, which, unless developments necessitate a charge of plan, will be the last of the season and his address was heard by about 1,500 mem. While in no way attempting to medify dress was heard by about 1,500 mem-bers. The only other speaker was Dr. David Z. T. Yui, who in 1916 was secrethe attempts on the part of certain peo-pie—he did not mettion Japan by name— to obstruct political and economic re-form in China, and made an urgent plea for assistance from America, which he described as the bost friend China has, to bring about the moral awaken-ing necessary is the Chinese Republic.

Denies He's Pessimist.

At the outset Mr. Vanderlip dir At the catest Mr. Vanderlip dis-claimed any and every suggestion that he was a pssimist. He predicted that America was soon to become the finan-cial centre of the world and pointed out that for the first time in history one nation was at once the reservoir of world's credits and the storehouse of America could make a short cut to in-dustrial peace, the same as she made a short cat to a military peace, but he added that the problem of an adjust-ment between capital and labor had to than suything that has been seen here-tofore. The nation that is to dominate the world, he said, will be the nation ready said by something further in re-gard to what the European situation means to us; but I am warned that mens to us; but I am warned that I field not pass over entirely the picture that I have already painted. There may be some of you familiar with it. It is a dark picture. It is one that I cinnot change from what I have said tige that I have already painted. There is some of you familiar with it. It is a dark picture. It is one that I is a dark picture. It is one that I is many it is that of it before, and while I want to speak possible relation to this situation I will, in deference to what your chairman has suggested. Say just a word about the original picture of what has happened to Europe. "I believe a hurt has come to Europe that may be greater than any hurt that is measured by the destruction that war has wrought directly, a hurt that is measured by the destruction that the might be more terrible than the hurt of war in its toll of life, and that hurt is the disorganization of the whole industrial machine of the Continent of Europe, and in a lesser degree of England.

"The disorganization of that industrial machine is a stoundingly complete. I am not speaking of the destruction across northern France and Belgium; that of content of cont whit when I turn later to look at a can reach that settlement."

Yul Sees Mikado's picture of grave danger to the fabric of civilization of Europe is a true pic-under the sway of the industrial system that has been built up in, say, the last sixty or seventy years. All Europe is a great manufacturing community. Very few of the countries of Europe are selfsustaining so far as their agricultural is concerned. Europe must operate its factories if Europe is to live.

Now, get that into your minds.

"Factory production must be started.

Europe can save herself only by going to work. And Europe is idle to a terrible degree at the present time. Europe must go to work, must start producing, and she is going to need help to do it; and the main duty and burden of giving her.

To have a republic, but to have a republic degree at the present time. Europe must go to work, must start producing, and the ruled by a king or an emperor or a mikado."

Dr. Yul said that China's reconstruction programme called for the building tion programme called for the building the programme called for the building to have a republic duty and burden duty and bur opportunity. Let me simply say that what I am telling you is true about the European situation, but I believe ways is a good chance to cure it, to start Eu-rope back toward a normal life. I think somebody ought to get this thing started either, that that's going to come easily or as a matter of course.

"London has been the financial centre of the world in modern times and has well discharged her obligations to the world in that respect. But to be the financial centre of the world, no matter how well wern the channels of world has been as a like world financial centre. business are, the world financial centre must be able fo pay its bank balances in gold if international depositors want it so paid.

"England is off the gold basis for a good while to come. A bank balance in England is payable in bank notes or currency notes, and as a practical mat-ter those are not freely redeemable. "But now it is not going to be finanial alone that our advantages are going vast foreign trade, but we have got to learn one thing—that foreign trade is not exclusively disposing of something you have got, and our necessity in becoming a great international trading nathat we are prepared to buy. Goods must in the main be paid for in goods ness of both, and back of that our manu-facturers have a condition that is un-matched and never was matched in all David Z. T. Yui, who it 1916 was secretary of the Chinese National Board of Trade that visited America. Dr. Yui spoke with consideable feeling about the attempts on the part of certain people—he did not mettion Japan by name—to obstruct political and economic reform in China, and made an urgent plea for assistance from America, which he described as the best friend China where else in the world, and then over-flowing from your domestic production you can go into the markets of the world and I believe be invulnerable. "To-day we are making steel in the United States $20 a ton cheaper than it is being made in England. The high cost of coal, the high cost of transporta-tion, the advance in wages have all cul-minated there in raising the cost of pro-duction.

building industry have on placing rails in neutral markets?

"Changes have come into the industrial situation in England with the risting wages, with the nationalization of industries—for that has well started. I have no doubt whatever but what the coal industry will be nationalized, and in all probability the railroads. All that is going to mean higher cost. It is costing England £100,000,000 a year octor run her railroads than in the years just prior to the war. The advance in wages and other costs of operation increased that cost £500,000,000.

"Now, I believe these rises in wages in England have been absolutely necesities in wages and the industrial markets of the world has been underpaid labor, and'I believe she has lost that differential because she has lesson we might well take ho

I am not speaking of the destruction across northern France and Belgium; capital and labor. It has got to be approached with an understanding and a ganized in a way that will at the very best take some years to rehabilitate, but in those districts where factories are unharmed, where you might anticipate that there were now admirable labor conditions, certainly you might will sun. Now, I do not minimize that possibility one white when I turn later to look at a more cheerful side of the situation. "There are so many things that I would like to take up, that I hardly know where to begin; but I want to leave this dark side of it in just a moment. But to grasp that side I must emphasize one point in your mind, and that is the point of the vast influence of Europe under the sway of the sway help will lie with us. Some other nations can help. In the main we must give Europe credit, not credit to rehabilitate her treasuries, which are very empty, but credit to rehabilitate her manufactory of the rials, credit in the form of raw mate-rials, of machinery, of a certain amount of food, of equipment for her railroads.

"That is the great need. That of food, of equipment for her caliroads.

That is the great need. That is what must be furnished before Europe can go to work, and unless Europe goes to work very promptly, Furope is going into trouble that is deeper than anything she has had.
